Bishop Macdonell School was among several other schools in the Catholic district school Board of Eastern Ontario, to have been selected to participate in an evaluation of the WITS program for the prevention of bullying and victimization in elementary schools. WITS, which stands for "Walk Away," "Ignore," "Talk it Out," and "Seek Help," encourages parents and community partners, such as the local police force, to get involved. Pictured (L-R) at their program launch on Thursday, Nov. 10, are Mary Patrick, Corbin Shearer, Constable Gary Leger, Cornwall Community Police, Jaden Ladouceur, and Jesse Cooper.
